

Opuntia X 'Kelly's Choice'

This hybrid appears to have been produced from Opuntia basilaris or beavertail cactus and O. microdasys or bunny ears. This selection made by Kelly Jones, our propagator, has all the fine qualities of both. The compact growth form coupled with the intense red flowers in the spring are a great combination. The plant will spread in width provided there is water available at the edge of the clump. This cactus is covered with tiny hairs known as glochids which are difficult to remove. Take care where this accent plant is placed.

AT A GLANCE SUMMARY

SIZE (H X W)	2.5 feet x 3 feet
FLOWER COLOR	Watermelon red
FLOWER SEASON	Mid-spring
EXPOSURE	Full sun
WATER	Low
GROWTH RATE	Moderately fast
HARDINESS	15° F, USDA Zone 8
PRUNING	None

ACCENT